My Breath.

Shortness of Breath Is One of the Commonest Signs of Heart Disease.

Notwithstanding what many physicians say, heart disease can be cured. Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure has permanently restored to health many thousands who had found no relief in the medicines (allopathic or homoeopathic) of regular practicing physicians. It has proved itself unique in the history of medicine, by being so uniformly successful in curing those diseases.

Nearly always, one of the first signs of trouble is shortness of breath. Whether it comes as a result of walking or running up stairs, or of other exercises, if the heart is unable to meet this extra demand upon its pumping powers—there is something wrong with it.

The very best thing you can do, is to take Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure. It will go to the foundation of the trouble, and make a permanent cure by strengthening and renewing the nerves.

"I know that Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure is a great remedy. For a number of years I suffered from shortness of breath, smothering spells, and pains in my left side. For months at a time I would be unable to lie on my left side, and if I lay flat on my back would nearly suffocate. A friend suggested taking Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, which I did with good results. I began to improve at once, and after taking several bottles of the Heart Cure the pain in my side and other symptoms disappeared, I am now entirely well. All those dreadful smothering spells are a thing of the past."—F. P. DRAKE, Middlebury, O.

KENTUCKIAN'S DEED

Shoots His Wife, His Child and Himself.

H. Clay King Is Dying in Prison—Wants Reported Found at Last.

STORE WRECKED BY POWDER

KENTUCKIANS' DEADLY AIM.

Caruthersville, Mo., Dec. 7—P. M. Norther, a farmer, living at Cannady's Switch, five miles south of here, shot his wife and daughter, then pointing the smoking revolver to his own breast, fired it and fell dying across a bed.

His wife, Katie, and 15 year old daughter, though shot seriously, will live.

It is the old story of jealousy.

Mrs. Kate Northern had been separated from her husband about two months. She took her four children and moved to a cabin some 50 yards from her husband's home. Yesterday evening one of the little girls saw her father approaching the cabin and informed her mother.

"I thought my husband was coming for trouble," said the wounded woman as she told the story.

"As soon as he entered the door," said she, "he began to fire."

"My little daughter tried to save me and was shot through the arm."

"I felt a bullet pass through my hip and fell to the floor."

"My husband stood over me, and looking me in the face, asked: 'Have I killed you?'

"I said, 'Yes,' for I thought I was dying."

"Then my husband fell across the bed and shot himself through the right breast."

A few neighbors arrived before the man died. He was struggling in death and murmuring something about a letter he had left in a trunk.

The trunk was opened and the letter found.

It was a brief farewell to his family. He said he had borne his troubles as long as he could and had decided to kill himself and wife. He requested his property be divided between his children, showing that he did not intend to kill them.

The Northers came here from Kentucky several years ago.

Black, says there is not one chance in ten thousand for his recovery. He had an attack of heart failure Saturday and for a while it was believed he was dying, but he rallied. As soon as Mr. King's serious illness began, his wife and three daughters were summoned and they have been with him since. King is spending life sentence for the murder of David H. Poston of the Memphis bar.

RHEUMATISM

AN INDESCRIBABLE TORTURE

Because Rheumatism sometimes comes on suddenly it doesn't prove that it is a chance disease or one due to accidental causes. It takes time for it to develop, and is at work in the system long before any symptoms are felt. The blood is the first point of attack, and the poisonous acids that cause the aches and pains are then distributed through the circulation to different parts of the system, and settle in joints, muscles and nerves; and when the system is in this condition it needs only some exciting cause like exposure to night air, damp, chilly weather, or the cold, bleak winds of winter, to arouse the slumbering poisons and bring on Rheumatism. The severity of the attack depends upon the amount of acid in the blood and the quantity of acrid matter in the joints and muscles. Some people are almost helpless from the first, while others have occasional spells or are uncomfortable, restless, nervous, and half sick all the time from the nagging aches and pains. Rheumatism is a disagreeable companion even in its mildest form. It grows worse as we grow older, and frequently stiffens the joints, draws the muscles out of shape and breaks down the nervous system. A disease that originates in the blood, as Rheumatism does, cannot be cured with external remedies like liniments and plasters; such things scatter the pains or drive them to some other part of the body, but do not touch the disease or improve the condition of the blood. The thin acid blood must be restored to its normal purity and strength, so that all poisonous substances may be carried out of the system, and no medicine accomplishes this in so short a time as S. S. S., which not only neutralizes the acids and counteracts the poisons, but builds up the general health at the same time.

RHEUMATISM IN ELBOWS, WRISTS AND KNEES.

Urbana, Ohio, Aug. 25, 1908.

Last winter I had a severe attack of Rheumatism. It started in the right elbow, and from there to my wrists; the right wrist was the worse. It became swollen and extremely painful, especially at my left knee joint, which was the next place to be attacked. It became swollen and of course painful. The next point to be affected was the hip and ankle, which gave me much trouble. I was unable to get about for some time. I was under treatment of a physician for awhile, but getting no better I began S. S. S., and after taking it for some time I was entirely relieved of the Rheumatism. All swelling and soreness disappeared. I consider S. S. S. a wonderful remedy for Rheumatism and all troubles having their origin in the blood.

ONE MILLION A DAY THE RAILROAD NEWS

This is Value of the Cotton Crops This Year.

The Southern Farmers Are in an Unusually Prosperous Condition.

SOME INTERESTING FIGURES

Two million of dollars a day is what Uncle Sam received in October for the raw cotton he exported. This is an enormous result from a single agricultural product, even for a country of such enormous results as the United States, says the New York Sun. By the records of the Bureau of Statistics of the Department of Commerce and Labor, the comparison with prior Octobers is:

|------|--------------|
| 1900 | $ 6,474,437 |
| 1901 | 46,000,000 |
| 1902 | 42,000,000 |
| 1903 | 60,283,412 |

The quantity exported this October was 594,540,872 pounds at an average price of 10.10 per pound.

It must not be assumed that we are getting $2,000,000 a day the year round for our raw cotton exports, but we are getting more than $1,000,000 a day, Sundays and holidays included, for the cotton and its products which we send abroad. In the fiscal year 1903 this total export was $376,759,645.

These figures give us $1,000,000 a day for the full fiscal year and $11,757,645 over. Even for raw cotton alone gathered in $316,180,429, or over $1,000,000 each business day in 1903 fiscal year. For the twelve months ended October, 1903, the showing is still better, namely, $320,406,314. These results are larger than in any preceding year in the history of our country.

It is probable that the Southern people have this year more money to spend than they have had at any time since the war.

This increase in purchasing power will result in a material and permanent advance for the Southern states. It will lead to an improvement in southern agricultural methods, to the development of new sources of wealth, and will add materially to the profit on future crops. The world's demand for cotton has gone beyond the world's supply, and the South will now prepare to meet that demand by increasing the production of cotton, at the same time increasing the production of other crops, leaving the cotton crop more and more of a money crop in the South.

GOOD ORDER ABOUT DEPOT

The Illinois Central depot employees are glad of the "dry Sundays" inaugurated, and one said today: "Yesterday we had no drunkenness about the depot and everything was as quiet and orderly as we could wish it. Every Sunday there are generally many drunken boys about the depot cutting up some of them from the small surrounding towns, who come here regularly on Sunday for the sole purpose of getting drunk. Sometimes they cut up, are arrested and miss their train. We do not like to have them arrested and the only possible solution to the matter is in the closing of the saloon. This was done yesterday and the depot was as quiet and orderly as I have ever seen it."

The substitution of white porters for negroes on sleeping and parlor cars is a change announced by the Union Pacific railroad. The change is to be made gradually, and if the white substitutes make good the negro will pass as a porter on all the Harriman transcontinental lines. Other systems are said to be interested in the innovation inaugurated by the Harriman lines, and if it proves satisfactory they will supplant negro porters with white men. It is suggested in this connection that tipping rates may be reduced as one important result of the change. At any rate the Harriman experiment is important and may mean a revolution in sleeping and parlor car service.

Mr. A. Q. Pearce, traveling passenger agent of the I. C., of Memphis, Tenn., was in the city this morning on business. He was here to look after the soldier boys who went to Frankfort to attend the inauguration ceremonies. There were five special coaches of soldiers, each company being assigned to a special coach. The Mayfield and Greenville companies went on the morning train No. 122, but the Paducah, Clinton and Morganfield companies went on the noon train No. 102. Mr. Evan Prosser, traveling passenger agent for the B. and O. road was in the city on business this morning and accompanied by Pearce to Louisville with the special coaches.

The Tennessee Central railway Saturday began receiving freight for Clarksville and intermediate points. It was also announced that trains would be running through to Hopkinsville by December 15. Traffic arrangements with the Illinois Central have been made, so it is said. President Chapman declined today to say if the rumors that if the road had or would be sold to the Illinois Central were true.

It is reported in railroad circles in Omaha that the Illinois Central is preparing to build into Des Moines and that actual construction will commence in the spring. The new line will pass through Grundy Center, Marshalltown and the northwestern corner of Jasper county into Polk county and into Des Moines, and will be about 85 miles long.

A branch office in the yard service has been located in the shop yards of the local I. C. and trains are sent out of the shop yards during the busy season and rush of business. This office will be maintained only during the rush, however. It is in charge of the assistant yardmaster. Trains have been dispatched out of this office for several days now.

The employees at the depot were treated to another surprise this morning when the train from St. Louis arrived at 7:35 o'clock. This train is generally from one to three hours late but of late has been making better time. Last week it came in twice on time.

Frank Lovelace, an employee of the I. C. road on the Cairo extension, had his left arm badly bruised Saturday by a portion of the steam shovel falling on him. He was assisting in loading the shovel onto a car when it slipped and caught his arm. He is at the hospital here.

The right hand of Aaron Flowers, an employee of the Illinois Central at Grand Rivers, was amputated at the I. C. hospital here Saturday after-coming unfriendly now.

Paducah has for the past two or three Sundays been "dry" enough to suit anyone. Everybody seems to be satisfied except those saloon men who supported the administration on account of the "pledges" they are supposed to have received. One thing has been clearly demonstrated, and that is that the saloons can be closed by the police when the higher powers order it.

A novel and effective remedy to rid St. Joseph, Mo., of the tramp nuisance has been adopted by the police judge. The hobos instead of being put to work, are sentenced to a cold bath once a day for a week and if they are not then ready to migrate they will have the dose doubled. Only one man has been treated thus far and there have been no tramps about since.

Speculation seems to be the craze. The man who makes a few millions in cotton and the fortunate plunger who cleans up a quarter of a million in one day on wheat, are lost sight of for a moment while the man who recently sold an ear for $5,000 attempts to play bear with the ear market and get a new ear for $1,000.

The mayor says he doesn't know where the reporters get their "tips." The reporters will readily admit the mayor of the charge of giving them tips. The mayor never makes up his mind until he has to and then he seems to fear he ought to change it.

A game of hide and seek is going on at Louisville between the people and slot machines. Judging from appearances the politicians own the saloons, the slot machines and the city, and well the police know their business.

NEW ERA DAWNS.

Rev. Enos Nuttall, archbishop of the West Indies, a keen and impartial observer, predicts that the time is not far distant when the United States will exercise sovereignty in South America. It seems to be generally conceded in tropical America that a new era has dawned in the history of our neighbors, and it can augur only well for them.

Bishop Nuttall is reputed to be the leader of conservative English thought in the tropical countries. His experience extends over forty years and his standing, discrimination and fairness give his utterances a weight and authority of which perhaps no other man in that region could boast.

Among other things he says:

"I do not pretend to know the exact bearing of the historical policy of the United States on the present situation on the isthmus of Panama; but I do know that the great bulk of the English speaking people in South and Central America, as well as in the West Indies, view with satisfaction the presence of the United States on the isthmus in the role of protector to any movement that will make the digging of the canal feasible."

"Of greater importance to all our interests, even than the digging of the canal, is the new American policy revealed and probably created by the events that have just transpired on the isthmus—the policy that assures us that the United States hereafter will actively intervene in the affairs of the South American republics whenever those affairs assume a threatening attitude toward the commercial or political well-being of the rest of the world. In order to attain anything like commercial stability a guarantee is needed that there will be a cessation of the interminable and meaningless revolutions that have beset these republics and endangered the foreign interests that are involved in them. This guarantee can only come from such action of the United States as we have just witnessed in Panama—action from which we are justified in concluding that sooner or later these lesser republics will come under a sort of American protectorate—or at least some modus vivendi that will assure the Democratic press will fail as utterly to create any dissension among Republicans as it has to promote harmony among the Democrats. Presidents Roosevelt and Senator Hanna are good friends, and will remain so. They are above the petty animosities of the class of men who lead the Democratic hosts, and while they may differ in their views on some things, they are unanimous in their loyalty to the Republican party, and will remain loyal to it. If they were the kind of men to fall out over a difference of opinion, they would still have more regard for the welfare of their party and the great principles it represents, than to jeopardize its success by be-

OF WHETHER COFFEE REALLY HURTS OR NOT.

Some folks drink coffee and suffer day after day but console themselves by saying "I don't believe it hurts me or at any rate I am not sure that it does."

"The sensible thing to do is to make sure by leaving off coffee and using Postum for a week or so. The trial is pleasant and you may learn something worth more than money to you in the way of health and strength."

An intelligent woman who valued her health and comfort made sure. She says: "I have proved positively that when I used coffee I had kidney and bladder trouble, palpitation of the heart, stomach trouble, insomnia and my complexion was sallow and muddy, but I got rid of all these troubles when I quit coffee and took on Postum Food coffee. All my troubles disappeared quickly, almost as if by magic, and in their place I became strong and well."

"I soon learned to like Postum as well as I ever liked coffee and I would not exchange my delicious cup of Postum for coffee and sickness for anything in the world." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

AN ANCIENT DIKE

Hugh Stones Imperial River Craft During Low Water.

Remnants of an Old Dam up About the Sisters, which River Men Fear.

WILL ASK ITS REMOVAL

There is a mysterious "dike" or the remnants of a dam, in the Ohio river about thirty-five miles above Paducah, near the Sisters Island, which river men agree the government should remove. It is said to be the cause of all the accidents and the subsequent loss of property at that place during the past several years. The dike it is said, is directly in the channel, and frequently boats run on top of the stones and are stranded.

No one knows when the stones were placed there, or how. They have been there as long as the oldest river man can remember, and none can be found who ever saw anyone who could give a satisfactory history of how the dike came to be there.

Capt. Joe Fowler says the dike must have been placed there while the Indians were still at Paducah, and that it was formerly, as near as he could ever learn, a dam, must have been put in about the time the Cumberland river dam was built, somewhere about 1820.

The dike composed of is composed of stones, which are loose and could be easily lifted and carried away on barges, leaving a fine channel where there is now most dangerous place in low water.

The government has no record of when the dike was built, say the older river men, and why the obstruction has never been removed no one seems to know. If the stones were taken away it would save much property now destroyed.

It is understood that another effort will now be made to have the government dredge the place and get rid of the prehistoric impediment.

WATCH MAN DISAPPEARS

LOCAL POLICE INSTRUCTED TO KEEP A LOOKOUT FOR HIM.

The local police department has received a circular bearing the likeness of William George Prall, the Elgin National Watch company official, whose mysterious disappearance is taxing the efforts of a score of detectives. A reward of $500 for information of the whereabouts of the missing man is made. The same reward is offered for legal proof of death.

Chief Clerk Luthardt, of the Chicago police department says: "The mystery in Mr. Prall's disappearance is not clearing in the least. Relatives of the missing man are fast beginning to believe him dead. But they are mystified when the question as to how he could have met death and where arises. There is something in it all that none of them can understand."

Mr. Prall has been secretary of the Elgin National Watch company for thirty years. He has been missing since Nov. 28.

DOCTORS TO FLECT

MEETING WILL BE HELD WEDNESDAY WITH DR. LIGHTFOOT.

Wednesday night is the regular bi-monthly meeting of the McCracken county medical society and at this meeting the annual election of officers will be held.

This will be the most important meeting of the year and will be made a special meeting more than regular medical meeting. The society will meet in the offices of Dr. Charles R. Lightfoot and there will be a banquet served and speeches made. The doctors from the county will be out in force and this will probably be the biggest meeting of the season.

DOUBLE WEDDING

KENTUCKIANS MARRIED IN METROPOLIS LAST SATURDAY.

Cloud Ivy and Mamie Byrd, of Hickory Grove, and Henry D. Williams and Nellie B. Jones, of Mayfield, are the names of two Graves county couples who eloped Saturday to Metropolis, Ill., and were married by Justice Liggett at his office there. They returned here in the evening and returned to Graves county.

BOTH WANT LUKE RAY

Interesting Fight Being Waged for Negro Counterfeiter.

He is Wanted Both in Metropolis and in Kentucky—Passed Raised Bills in Paducah.

QUESTION STILL UNSETTLED

A heated and somewhat ridiculous fight is being waged in the United States court at Memphis for possession of a negro, Will, alias Luke Ray, who assisted in passing many "raised" bills in Paducah on August 8th. Ray is wanted in this state for counterfeiting and for murdering a deputy sheriff near Horse Cave. At Memphis he is wanted for counterfeiting, and the result of the contest over who will get him is yet to be decided.

The contention of the United States district attorney in the Memphis court is that if the negro is brought to Kentucky he will be lynched. They rarely ever lynch them in Tennessee!

The Memphis Commercial Appeal of yesterday says:

"Ray is now being held at the county jail in this city under the commitment of the United States commissioner to await the action of the Federal grand jury which convenes Monday. It is intimated in line with the withdrawal of the prosecution against the negro that a true bill will not be returned against him by the grand jury. Then should Judge Hammond refuse to sign the papers Monday afternoon, when his answer will be given, it is expected that the sheriff of Edmonson county will be communicated with and asked to come at once to this city to take charge of the negro.

"Attorney Hammer, representing the negro, is prepared to fight any contingency. At present he is vigorously contesting the removal order on the presumable grounds that Ray is not the negro wanted in Kentucky, that a certified copy of an indictment by another court is not sufficient to warrant removal and that the negro is already under commitment for an offense alleged to have been committed in this district. Behind these grounds it is stated that the fear of the negro being lynched is one of the chief motives in the attorney's fight. Should Judge Hammond refuse to sign the order and should the negro be turned over to the state authorities, Mr. Hammer's fight will not end as it is conceded he will procure habeas corpus papers and continue the fight for his client in the state courts.

"Curtis Farmer, a negro restauranteur at Elizabethtown, was introduced and positively identified Ray as the man who had passed a raised $10 note on him last summer. He could give no positive statement of the date at which this occurred. Capt. H. C. Dickey, local secret service agent, was then introduced to show that Ray had never denied his identity as the man wanted in Kentucky.

"During the afternoon Mr. Hammer introduced two witnesses in an endeavor to prove that Ray was in this city at the time of the alleged counterfeiting operation and the killing of the constable of Cave City which followed some time later. The testimony of Ben Wright, the first of these witnesses, was not of the most positive nature. James Letovitch, the other witness testified that he had seen Ray in this city a short time after the emancipation exercises at Paducah during which the alleged counterfeiting had occurred. He admitted that he had some trouble on a train, but was not positive whether or not this trouble had occurred in the state of Kentucky.

"Judge Hammond, in taking the case under advisement, said that he could not conceal the fact that he discredited the test of the identity of Ray which had been made by Farmer, for the reason that the latter could not remember within four months of the time at which the negro is supposed to have passed the raised bill upon him. He said that it was a physical infirmity that it was difficult to identify the features of a person unless the identifier were on terms of close familiarity with the party identified. Judge Hammond, placed the matter upon the question of intellectual capacity and stated that he did not question the truthfulness of the witness, but the value of his testimony.

We Offer $1,000

For a Disease Germ That Liquozone Can't Kill.

On every bottle of Liquozone we publish an offer of $1,000 for a germ that it cannot kill. We do that to convince you that liquid oxygen does kill germs.

Any drug that kills germs is a poison to you and it cannot be taken internally. Liquozone alone can kill germs in the body without killing the tissues, too. It is the only way known—the only way one can conceive of—to destroy the cause of any germ disease.

the highest price ever paid for similar rights on any scientific discovery. Before making the purchase we tested the product for years through physicians in the most difficult germ diseases. We proved that Liquozone does what nothing else in the world can accomplish, and that the results are unrivaled.

A discovery that could command such a price is something you should know, if you need it. We are doing our part by supplying the first bottle free. Will you do your part by requesting it?

Kills With Oxygen.

Liquozone is simply liquid oxygen—no drugs, no alcohol in it. It is the discovery of Pauli, the great German chemist, who spent 20 years on it. His object was to get such an excess of oxygen in staple form into the blood that no germ could live in any membrane or tissue.

Oxygen is life to an animal—the very source of vitality. Its effects are exhilarating, purifying. It is Nature's greatest tonic. But germs are vegetables, and this excess of oxygen that kills germs is, deadly to vegetable matter. Liquozone charges the blood with such an excess of oxygen that no germ can live where that blood goes. We spend 14 days in making each bottle.

We Paid $100,000

for the American rights to Liquozone.

THREE PACKETS STRANDED BY CHANGE OF CHANNEL—NOW OFF.

By a sudden change in the Mississippi's channel near Selma, Mo., thirty-five miles below St. Louis, three large steamers on the way to St. Louis were caught in the old channel as the water receded.

One of the packets, the city of Memphis, had a cargo of 45,000 bushels of peanuts aboard for the St. Louis market. The other boats were the Chester and the Dolphin.

The United States lighthouse steamer Lily went to the aid of the stranded packets. Her officers discovered the channel had changed its course, and now runs close to the Illinois side. After a day's hard work the packets were released and proceeded on their way.

FINE APPROPRIATION

A TOTAL OF $31,410 WILL BE NEEDED NEXT YEAR.

The question of enlarging the local fire department will probably not come up at the meeting of the council tonight. In fact, it is announced by prominent city officials that nothing will be done until the new boards are installed in January, and the question of making the annual appropriations for next year come up. Nothing can be done out of this year's levy, as no money is on hand.

It is estimated that the improvements desired will make the appropriation for the fire department $31,410. It has been $21,000.

The money will be apportioned as follows, should the appropriation be made as above: One chief and four captains, $3,880; 19 stationmen, $10,400; feed and shoeing 15 head of horses, $1,000; wear and tear on apparatus, $300; 3,000 feet of hose, $1,080; four head of horses, $600; storage battery and switchboard, $1,000; five new fire alarm boxes, $1,000; two new sets of harness, $150; two new stations, complete, $7,000; one new chemical and hose wagon, $2,500; one-half dozen nozzles, $60; lights for four houses, $480; coal, $240. Total, $31,410.

TO CHANGE NAME

THERE ARE TWO MOUNDS, ILL., AT PRESENT.

There is a likelihood of a change in the names of Mounds and Beechwood, Ill., mounds in the name most familiar in Paducah and Beechwood is the name of the postoffice. In many cases this results in the miscarriage of mail as there is another "Mound" in Brown county and unless the county is given so the mail agents can place it the mail addressed goes to the Brown county office. It is not probable that the postal authorities will consent to abolish the Brown county office in favor of a newer office of the same name so if any change is made it will be up to the Illinois Central people and the citizens of Mounds-Beechwood to arrange it.

Explained the circumstances to her. She had already heard Bill's description of Gwen's accident and of her part in the church building schemes. There was silence for a few moments as she stood looking at the beautiful pony.

"What a shame the poor child should have to part with the dear little creature!" she said in a low tone to her husband. Then, turning to the stranger, she said in clear, sweet tones:

"What do you ask for him?" He hesitated and then said, lifting his hat awkwardly in salute, "I was just remarkin' how that pinto would fetch $150 down into Montana; but, seemin' as a lady is inquirin', I'll put him down to $125."

"Too much," she said promptly; "far too much, is it not, Bill?"

"Well," drawled Bill, "if 'twere a fellow as was used to ladies he'd offer you the pinto, but he's too pizen mean even to come down to the even hundred."

The Yankee took him up quickly. "Waal, if I were so blanked—pardon, madam," taking off his hat—"used to ladies as some folks would like to think themselves, I'd buy that there pinto and make a present of it to this here lady as stands before me." Bill twisted uneasily.

"But I ain't goin' to be mean. I'll put that pinto in for the even money for the lady if any man cares to put up the stuff."

"Well, my dear," said the Hon. Fred, with a bow, "we cannot well let that gage lie." She turned and smiled at him, and the pinto was transferred to the Ashley stables, to Bill's outspoken delight, who declared he couldn't have faced the music if that there pinto had gone across the line." I confess, however, I was somewhat surprised at the ease with which Hi escaped his wrath, and my surprise was in no way lessened when I saw later in the evening the two partners with the stranger taking a quiet drink out of the same bottle with evident mutual admiration and delight.

"You're an Al corker, you are! I'll be blanked if you ain't a bird—a singin' bird, a reg'lar canary," I heard Hi say to Bill.

But Bill's only reply was a long, slow wink which passed into a frown as he caught my eye. My suspicion was aroused that the sale of the pinto might bear investigation, and this suspicion was deepened when Gwen next week gave me a rapturous account of how splendidly Bill had disposed of the pinto, showing me bills for $150. To my look of amazement Gwen replied:

"You see, he must have got them bidding against each other, and besides, Bill says pintos are going up."

"Look a-hyar, mates," said the stranger, with a Yankee drawl, "I ain't no boss thief, and if I hadn't bought this boss reg'lar and paid down good mon'ey then it ain't mine; if I have, it is. That's fair, ain't it?"

At this Hi pulled himself together and in a half drunken tone declared that the stranger was all right and that he had bought the horse fair and square, and "there's your dust," said Hi, handing a roll to Bill. But with a quick movement Bill caught the stranger by the leg, and before a word could be said he was lying flat on the ground.

"You git off that pony," said Bill, "all this thing is settled."

There was something so terrible in Bill's manner that the man contented himself with blustering and swearing, while Bill, turning to Hi, said:

"Did you sell this pinto to him?"

Hi was able to acknowledge that,

Theatrical Notes.

Will O. Murphy, the author of "Why Women Sin," has launched a companion play to his much discussed drama entitled "If Women Were Men," which under the management of M. W. Taylor Amusement company will shortly be seen for the first time in this city. It is given out quietly that this is really a dramatization of the celebrated "violet bride" divorce case, which had society in the north and south by the ears about three years ago. There is a scene in the bridal apartments of a fashionable New York hotel which comes very close to being a fac simile of the incident that was responsible for the divorce of the "violet bride" by her husband of one day. There is no problem attached to "If Women Were Men," but it does show what a beautiful southern girl did when she was confronted with a situation that required the strength and fortitude of a man in order to secure the object of her love. It takes four acts and six scenes to unfold this thrilling plot, in which there are eighteen characters, all of whom contribute to its realism. Two of the most sensational scenes outside of the violet incident, are the sword duel between two men on a roof garden in New York city, in which one is forced off the roof, and the death of the disturber of domestic bliss, by a bolt of lightning from the sky.

Lewis Morrison and an excellent company pleased two large audiences at the Kentucky Saturday in a matinee and evening performance. Mr. Morrison though now quite old, has lost none of the force and fire of youth in the interpretation of the difficult role of Mephisto in which he has made his reputation, as ranking first among all actors. His magnetism fascinating his audience, and the attractiveness and repulsion, which he threw into the character of the spirit of evil, shows the true artistic touch which his age has not taken from him. The support was good and the scenery and stage settings very effective.

"The Wizard of Oz," the new extravaganza which will be seen at The Kentucky Friday night is said to disclose a succession of scenes that are veritable panoramas of natural beauty. In the first act a terrific cyclone disrupts a Kansas farm in full view of the audience, carrying away the ancestral homestead of little Dorothy, the heroine, transporting her on the wings of the wind to the realm of Oz which is of course another name for fairyland. This novel stage effect is declared to be a marvel of scenic and mechanical stage art. Seats go on sale Thursday 10 a.m. Curtain positively up at 8 sharp.

Laughter will presently hold both his sides and great tears will flow down his fat and merry cheeks, since the Black Patti troubadours are to appear at The Kentucky today, matinee and night. The Black Patti herself will appear in a new kaleidoscope and a beautiful vocal creation called "A Festival of Operatic Melody." Her managers have surrounded her with a great aggregation of mirth-provoking chocolate-colored singers, dancers and merry Andrews. The balcony reserved for colored people tonight.

"A Royal Slave," which is recognized as one of the very best attractions on the road will be seen at The Kentucky Wednesday night. The play which deals with life in Old Mexico is out of the ordinary run of melodramas, and gives the scenic artist wonderful scope for some very elaborate scenic effects. This will be one of the very best attractions that Manager English will offer this season and he is looking forward to a well filled house.

No arrangements have yet been made to run the summer theater here next summer. Manager James E. English gave up the lease last summer, and the greater part of the summer there was no show. It is probable that the street car company will take up the park matter early in January and arrange to open the theater during the summer.

The "Two Little Waifs" company, which plays here next Saturday, will remain here ten days following, laying off during the holidays. Many of the best companies on the road always lay up during the holidays and during holy week. The Two Little Waifs company is one of the best of the Lincoln J. Carter troupes.

Manager James E. English, of the Kentucky theater, has completed arrangements to spend next summer with his family at Asbury park, N.J. He will leave June 1. The Ken-
